TELEGRAPHIC.

THE VERY LATEST NEWS BY WIRE

(By Special Telegram.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17.—Degiers has given assurance that Russia will not occupy Bulgaria.

Full particulars of Hudson's Bay Railway scheme have not yet been received.

From correspondence previously had the opinion prevails that the full scheme is not floated, but that by the aid of the Provincial guarantee funds for the line within the Province have been secured.

W. T. Jackson has resigned his position in the North West Council. He gives as his reason for so doing that his time is too much occupied with railroad matters. Among his successors are mentioned Crutcher and Seymour of Qu'Appelle, and Crawford and Bell, Indian Head.

Mr. Jackson might have withheld his resignation until after the approaching session of the Council, and not leave the district unrepresented during the session. His duties in connection with the Wood Mountain and Qu'Appelle Railway can scarcely be so pressing as to justify him in resigning so soon, before the Council meets, and notwithstanding his plea of justification the opinion will prevail that he was afraid to meet the Governor or Council after his famous speech at Qu'Appelle. However, the district is better unrepresented than misrepresented.

The address to be forwarded to Sir John Macdonald from the residents of Prince Albert, is on view at Betts & Gwynne's store. It is a beautiful and artistic piece of work. The illuminating and engraving were done by the ladies of St. Anne's convent, and is a credit both to those ladies and the town.

The Winnipeg Free Press says a Prince Albert man named McLeod, 43 years of age, met with a probably fatal accident recently. He lived with a family in a shanty on Common street, Winnipeg, and was getting into his berth, when he missed his footing and fell to the floor.

The unfortunate man landed with the back of his neck on the edge of an upturned axe, and a most dangerous wound was the result. McLeod came to this city from Prince Albert some months ago, but had not done any work since his arrival, being unable to do heavy work owing to his legs being paralyzed.

BATTLEFORD.

From the Herald.

Fred C. Tate arrived from Moose Jaw on the 25th with a band of 57 sheep sent in for the Indian Department. They are intended as a present to Musquim and members of his band as a reward for their loyalty during the rebellion.

Sergeant Maringer, now of the Police force, but formerly of A. Battery, arrived from Prince Albert last Monday and was assigned a position in the local force.

Thirty five men of the Prince Albert detachment of Mounted Police left on Wednesday for this place, where they will be temporarily stationed. They reached here at noon on Sunday. Inspector Beggs is in command.

Const. John Rummelfield, of K. Division, died on Sunday night and was buried on Monday afternoon. He hailed from the county of Prince, Ont., and was an 1882 recruit. He was also a participant in the Duck Lake fight.

FORT McLEOD.

From the Gazette.

Good Indians recently surrounded a band of sheep at Belly River and drove them over a steep embankment, killing 172 of them, then skinned and carried them off. The authorities intend to investigate the matter.

CALGARY.

From the Herald.

The Indian department has issued orders that any Staro Indian found on the reserve after this will be arrested by the Mounted Police. This is a move that should have been made long ago, and if the being done now is the result of Inspector Meade's pistol shot, we think Mr. Meade should get a medal.

Albert Trotter, an Indian, was charged on Wednesday last before Judge Young, J. P., for illegally having whiskey in his possession on the 17th, Nov., 1885. The magistrate after hearing the evidence dismissed the case, addressing, at the same time, some very timely remarks to the prosecutor, and ordering him to pay the costs, which amounted to about $10, within five days, or be committed to jail for 28 days.

J. Spratt, Esq., brother of our respected townsmen Col. Spratt, whose home is in Bruce county, Ont., arrived in town by the last mail. On Monday evening a few of the colonel's friends, among them being Hon. Lawrence Clark and Chas. Mair assembled at the former's residence and welcomed the visitor in true Prince Albert fashion. The P. A. C. Band were also present, and discoursed some music. Mr. Spratt will remain only a short time. The Colonel, who has always been a good friend of the town, presented them with $20.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Qu'Appelle Progress desires that it has nominated Mr. W. D. Parley for the House of Commons at the general elections, but says it is the people who are determined to do so. Mr. Parley is a man of considerable ability, and would not make a bad representative for Eastern Assiniboia.

THE Halliand election resulted in the election of a Liberal by 115 majority.
At the last election the Liberal candidate was elected by a majority of 125.
Since then, under the new act a number of new names have been added to the roll, among them being about 125 Indians. How the Indians voted we are not, as yet, informed.

INSTRUCTIONS were received by last mail to remove the Land Office to the premises occupied by the Timber Agent.
If no removal of this order is made the public will be greatly inconvenienced, as the Timber Office is situated a long distance from the business portion of the town. The Government certainly could not have been informed of the true position of the Timber office or they would scarcely have issued the instructions referred to.

IT is more than likely that the rebellion losses will not be settled until after the next session of the Commons, which will be asked to vote the amount reported necessary to meet the claims of the Commission. Of the $67,583.08 paid out last year this district only received $16, 000 and the remainder went to Rattle-ford. We wish there was some way of expediting this business, but the money must be voted by Parliament before it can be paid out, and there is nothing for it but to wait.

SAYS the Rattleford Herald: "Big Bear is pleading for liberty. He wants to live at liberty and in peace. He begs to be released because he was deceived. Like his friend Poundmaker, he has no regret for his misdeeds.
His sorrow is that he had been deceived as to the number of the white men he would have to fight. For this he does not think he should be made to wait in prison. It was always his plan to wait when he was wanted to move. He is now in a good place to be made to put his prospects into practice." He evidently would have made a much better "wait" at the end of a rope than he does in prison.

A MAN WITH A MISSION.

Regina is to be saved! A man with a mission is about to pitch his tent within the limits of this modern Sodom, and its sinners—baldheaded ones, in particular—are to be regenerated by a liberal sprinkling of those pure and reviving waters which ever flow from the Grit fountain. It is well. Too long hath the Tory demon held its people in thralldom; too long hath social and moral corruption been eating at the vitals of the citizen of the capital of the North-West. The Regina Journal is to be established, and is to "be a fearless advocate of reform in social and political life"—its mission, like that of its party, is "to elevate the morals of the community." But while it will keep a watchful eye over Regina, and Mr. Davin in particular, we gather from its prospectus that it intends to take the whole North-West under its wing; that its beneficent rays are to permeate and overshadow the Great Lone Land, and that summer frosts and drought, hail storms, prairie fires and rebellions are to be things of the past, or—down goes the Tory Government. But since it is by virtue of his moral and intellectual pre-eminence the editor of the organ about to be established expects to accomplish so much good for the North-west at large, and Regina in particular, we will quote a passage from the Portage la Prairie Liberal, of which he is the editor. The text is the Tory party, and the pretext is, doubtless, the elevation of the literary tastes of the people:

"The Tory party in Canada would seem to be smitten with one of those hereditary and peculiar diseases which show themselves in members of the family intermittently, in various scorbutic forms. After drastic purgatives and alternatives have been administered by the physician, they disappear, perhaps for years, and then reappear with all their old time severity. The old complaint broke out among the Tory ministers in 1873, and became known as the Pacific Railway Scandal; one of the physicians, public opinion, was promptly called in and drove back to obscurity the scrofulous appearances, but in this present year of grace a most malignant type of disease has shown itself. The body politic at Ottawa would seem, by the manifestations of the last twelve months, to be one horrible mass of gangrene, ulcers and rotting corruption, and it will be long indeed, if ever, before the contamination it has caused to those who have come in contact with it can be eradicated."

With such a recommendation as this there can be no doubt as to the success of the Journal. Its high tone—from a Grit point of view—is at once established, and the political regeneration of the people of the North-West assured.

It will be the duty of the Journal, in order to accomplish its mission, to remind the people of the North-West of the divers and malignant forms of corruption which broke out in the Tory camp in 1873, and the cure worked by the great physician public opinion; but it will be careful not to tell the people that the cure was worse than the disease, and that but for that same great physician Canada would have fallen a prey to that most malignant disease which is so peculiar to the Grit party and which is popularly known as "Deficit," and which cost us just $15,000,000 before Canada was restored to its former robust condition.
This same party having again pronounced the body politic at Ottawa to be in an unhealthy state, are now appealing to the great physician public opinion to give them a certificate to administer some more of their quick nostrums, and it will be the mission of the Journal, by means of such high-class literature as the above to awake the public to a sense of the peculiar fitness of their political deceptions to bring about a sort of moral and political millennium.

Heretofore the journals of the North-West have taken a more or less independent stand in the discussion of public questions, but now that the Grit party has thought fit to establish a paper in the capital of the North-West, with a view, no doubt, of influencing public opinion against the Government at the coming Dominion elections, the friends of the Government will have to defend it. It will, of course, not be an unpleasant duty, from a party point of view, as the present Government is comparatively above reproach. Mistakes may have been made, but when those mistakes are weighed in the balance with the immense good the Government has accomplished for Canada as a whole, and the North-West in particular, they fade into insignificance. We, however, will welcome the Journal to our exchange list, while at the same time we shall not fail to accord it praise or censure according to its merits.

THE Calgary Herald thinks that because some citizens of that town were recently fined for selling liquor, while the murderers of Clinker Scott and the robbers of Her Majesty's mail are at large, that murder is considered less of a crime than whiskey selling in the territories. This is strange reasoning; because murderers and thieves are at large other breakers of the law should not be punished. We do not believe that any one outside of the Herald office believes in any such doctrine. The trouble is that some of the Herald man's supporters had to shell out $1,300 in fines the other day and he cannot see why they should do so while there is a murderer left unbound a thief at large. A novel plot, though somewhat weak.

An order in Council of the 7th July decrees as follows:—In case of payments due on the 7th July one-third must be paid within one year from the first day of January next, another third within two years and the final one third within three years from that date. So that the first payment will be due on the 1st of January, 1888. Where payment has and shall become due since 7th July, the first payment will be due six months after wards and the second and third at intervals of a year each. At the end of the extension it will be enough to have cropped forty acres on either the homestead or the pre-emption. For six months of each year of the extended time he must have resided either on the homestead or the pre-emption. Meanwhile no interest is charged.

REV. S. TRIVETT, of the Blood Reserve, attacks the Hon. Thos. White in the Weekly Manitoban for visiting that reserve on Sunday, upon which the Mc-Leod Gazette remarks:—"The attack is an unjust and unwarranted one, and considering the source it is very carry on weight whatever. We regret to have to say so, but the time is coming when plain talk is getting necessary. . . . In plain language then, Mr. Trivett has no standing as a clergyman whatever among those who know him best. . . . His attacks on Mr. White have been prompted by no feelings of concern for the welfare of the Indians any more than have his coarse and vulgar allusions to the immoral question been the outcome of any real moral concern for the welfare of the Indians. In the former case his political leanings have led him on more than anything else, as his own frequent remarks concerning the Conservative Government have clearly indicated." It appears that while Rev. Mr. Trivett objected to the visit, Rev. Mr. McLean recognised the importance of it, and the fact that owing to other engagements Mr. White could not go any other day, and told Mr. White he was glad he was going. He also met Mr. White on the ground and lunched with him, and remained with him all day. He also held two services before the party arrived.
But Mr. Trivett remained at home while the devil in the shape of Mr.
White was going among his flock. After all, Mr. White could not have been doing anything seriously wrong in giving clothing and food to the Indians and advising them to obey their missionaries.
At all events Mr. Trivett would have a better right to demand that Mr. White should leave the reserve through the columns of a newspaper.

chewan District Court, Prince Albert, in vision, on the Thirtieth day of March, A.D. 1886, at the suit of James Macdonald and Joseph Knowles against James Treston, and to me directed, I have seized and taken in execution as the property of the said James Treston, all the right title and interest of the said James Treston in and to all those parcels or tracts of land and premises situate, lying and being all the Town lots in Block N. between 11th and 12th streets, Town lots 4, 5, 6, and 7, both inclusive, in Block E. between 10th and 11th streets, according to a plan of survey of River lot 77, of the Prince Albert Special Survey made by Alexander Apsall, D.L.S., dated July 28th, 1885.
And I do hereby give public notice that I will, on SATURDAY, the 20th DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A.D. 1886, at twelve o'clock noon, at the Sheriff's Office, Prince Albert, set up and sell at public auction the said property, or as much thereof as will satisfy the levy made on the said writ, and there-unto I have added three dollars and thirty cents

A LOVE STORY.

(Written for THE TIMES.)

Once on a time—the story goes—A beautiful boy wandered away And the flowers bloomed in his way.
And wild flowers bloom in his way.
He knew not whence—care not where His course led to; his only thought Was to view the flowers here and there And pick a sweet forget-me-not.
Overhead he roamed, his children will do, Braving no care, knowing no fear.
Gazing, thinking, wondering who The beautiful flowers sent each year.
When, perchance, he came face to face With—whence she came nobody knows—A little girl of sweetest grace, And as bright as the morning rose.
And, statue-like, they rested, stood—Unmoved by hostile's alarms—Their eyes telling, as no tongue could,
How soon to children grace hath charms.
Thus fate made them little sweethearts, And love from their pure souls looks out Through eyes whose very glance invests A pledge of faith unmarred by doubt.

THE FLAG OF CANADA.

O fair is the flag was born at our birth, O wave it on high in the mid-day sun, It tells of a nation's life then begun With a future bright as any on earth; O wave it on high; its bright folds unfurl To its native breeze. Let it flutter and curl Our ramparts and towers from sea to sea.
And our children with its majesty Till the end of time, 'till the last dread day, When earthly glories shall pass away.
All praise to the flag that for centuries Have men and true triumphantly bore Over the deep to earth's furthestmost shore And made mistress of the trackless seas.
Praise to that flag! 'till the day of another Flare with a love nothing shall smother.
A young, a bright flag, of noble design—My native land's—be Dominions—ensign, And 'till we wave it on high, give it a place In the vanguard of the human race.

STEELE'S SCOUTS.

PRESENTATION OF MEDALS—SPEECH BY
GEN. STRANGE—ADDRESS, FRENCH-TATION AND REPLY.

(From the Calgary Tribune.)

On Saturday evening, September 4th, Steele's Scouts were presented with the medal awarded for service during the late rebellion. Gen. Strange was present, his appearance being greeted with hearty cheers. He made a few remarks congratulating the men on the occasion, and asked Mme. Rouleau to make the presentations. One by one the men were called up, and as each signed the roll the General gave him a hearty shake of the hand, and expressed a wish that the recipient might long live to wear the badge of honor which he had so well earned. Many enthusiasm was manifested among the men during the ceremony of presentation, and when the General, at the close, went up to address them he received an ovation.

He said: "My comrades—I am proud to call you comrades. I have commanded soldiers during the past thirty years, and I have never commanded a corps that I admired more than you, and I do not want to command any better soldiers than Steele's Scouts, the bravest and the chivalry of Alberta." (Cheers.) It is impossible that I can ever forget you. I may pass you in the streets and perhaps be unable to recognize your individual faces, but I will never forget that gallant troop of men, for whatever service I have been enabled to render the country I could not but have rendered but for you. (Cheers.) I am sorry that you are not all here to-night. Some of you I know have come a long distance; you are scattered—and others could not possibly get here. But wherever they may be, I trust and believe there will ever be a bond of sympathy and union among the men who have served in the force. Without your assistance in the foreground it would have been nearly impossible to move the large force of infantry, encumbered with transport and wagons, through that country—and you know what a country it is—infantry, too, of good material, like the gallant 65th—(cheers)—but with little military experience. But in moving them forward I felt that the force was well covered by your thin line of scouts under the gallant Steele. (Cheers.) The infantry with the wagons were helpless, and in my report, I have mentioned that you were the eyes, ears and feet of the force. You had had little experience, but you had the hearts of soldiers. (Cheers.) I never had to find fault with one of you for your courage or give any punishment from the beginning to the end of the campaign, and I will always feel proud to have commanded you—(applause.) You may have seen some reports in the papers about part of the report not having been published. Gen.

Middleton is not here to-night and I do not intend to say anything of the matters in dispute, only this that Major Steele's report, which was forwarded to me, was by me forwarded to Gen. Middleton, and it has not been published. But it is a satisfaction to know that we did our duty, and that is enough for any man. (Applause.) Some of you are American citizens, but in this campaign those of you who are Americans prove that blood is thicker than water.—(Cheers.) You fell into line to help the citizens of Canada to put down a rebellion within her own borders. It was a feeling worthy of you. I hope I will not live to see that feeling wane, but that it will be kept up and the occasion remembered, for it is worthy of being remembered.—(Cheers.) I know that I may be wearying you in going further into the details of the campaign, for these details are still fresh, and will long remain fresh in your memories. You did your duty well. That long march to Pitt, with all its attendant hardships and dangers, but which was satisfactorily performed, you will not need to be reminded of the incidents. But while making it Steele's Scouts were always an assurance of safety to the column. When I looked forward I could always see the country dotted over in a semi-circle with horsemen like a ring fence, and our enemy, the Indians, did not want to get inside that ring fence. (Laughter and applause.) After the engagement at Frenchman's Butte, I sent you forward in pursuit, and I was told that Steele would fight, and I said: "I know better Steele will fight, and against any odds."—(Cheers.) And he did. The sad thing is, the misfortune is, that the Indians were not corralled. If we had had help on the other side as we asked and expected, the result would have been different.—(Applause.) I wish to say a word here about the police medals. I felt that I could not wear a medal that was not given to all the men who served under me, and I am glad that Sir John Macdonald has reversed that decision, and that they will now wear their medals like the rest of us.—(Applause.) Continuing the General said he had served with the cavalry corps of different countries, Sikhs, Pathans and Afghans, but he had never served with a better corps than that of Alberta. He believed that Alberta would yet be a great nursery of chivalry. He expressed sorrow that Major Steele, Capt. Oswald, and Lieut. Coryell were not present, and concluded by proposing a vote of thanks to Mme. Rouleau, which was carried with applause.

After cheers were given for Her Majesty Staff-Sergeant Wilson stepped forward and presented General Strange with a gold-headed cane and read an address to him on behalf of the members of Steele's Scouts, expressive of the esteem in which they held him and sympathizing with the physical misfortunes which he had suffered since the campaign, and expressing the hope that should the country's welfare again demand the services of Steele's Scouts, that they might be led by him, Strange or as good a soldier. The General thanked the Scouts for their fresh mark of esteem, and said he would be as proud of it as any Frenchman could be of his baton de maréchal. (Applause.)

After some remarks from ex-Mayor Reilly, bearing upon the injustice that had been meted out by the Government to Gen. Strange, the meeting dispersed.

A VERGE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, get at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, there is no mistake about it. It cures colic, wind, and flatulency, regulates the bowels, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price five cents a bottle. Beware and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Lethbridge News of Sept. 1st says a man named Richard Thompson was drowned in the Belly River, near the mouth of the St. Mary's, on the 30th ult. He was on the opposite side of the river from camp and started to cross to dinner on horseback. The water was pretty deep, but so he had used the same horse for swimming the river often before, he thought there was no danger. On getting into deep water the horse refused to swim and sank with him. Being a good swimmer he left his horse and struck out for the shore, but had not proceeded far before he sank. The deceased was a native of Cumberland county, Nova Scotia, and was about 26 years of age.

THE VERY LATEST NEWS BY WIRE

(By Special Telegraph.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—The C. P. R. telegraph system is open for general business to all points in the North West and Eastern Canada. From all points in Manitoba to the provinces of Ontario and Quebec the rate is 75 cents for ten words, a reduction of 60 cents all round from Assiniboia east and west the rate will be $1 dollar for ten words, a reduction of 50 and 60 cents respectively; from Alberta and British Columbia the rate will be $1.25, a reduction of 75 cents all round.

Capt. Monkman, N. N., who accompanied the last Hudson's Bay expedition, has arrived over land from York Factory. He learned that on June 5 the steam whaler Arctic had passed through the straits without being impeded by ice. Regarding the navigability of the straits Capt. Monkman is of opinion that they are capable of being navigated certainly for four months in the year, and probably some years for five months or even more. The fact of a whaler having gone through a portion of the straits with such ease, points, he thinks, to the conclusion that the straits are open to navigation during the month of June, and that the ice encountered by the Arctic was probably ice that had drifted down from Fox Channel. Capt. Monkman left York Factory on the 9th of August, travelling by canoe to Oxford House and Neway House, reaching the latter place on the 27th. He there joined a party of Indians and came to Lake Winnipeg, and then embarked with them in a York boat and arrived at Selkirk on Saturday evening. He intends to remain in Winnipeg a few days and then go on a tour. He will return to England at the end of three or four months.

William Gordon, a Winnipeg boy, committed suicide on Saturday night by taking Paris Green. He was only twelve years old, but was tired of life because he had been arrested, as he stated, falsely, on charge of larceny.

Great excitement has been caused at Chatham, England, over the unexpected receipt of urgent orders from the Admiralty to expedite the completion of the men of war. Relays of workmen are to be employed by day and night, if necessary. This activity is regarded as indicating possible continued complications.

The Pott's Berlin correspondent says that Austria has formally notified Germany that Austria will oppose any attempt by Russia to encroach upon the liberties of the Balkans. A special messenger has started for Strasbourg with important despatches for Emperor William.

The Englishmen defeated Montreal at cricket.

The Mayflower defeated the Galatea in the final contest for the American cup. The Methodist Conference is considering the desirability of extending the pastoral term to five years.

Hon. John Carling will probably visit Manitoba this year.

Considerable excitement was caused in Battleford by the announcement that sixty-four Indians had deserted from Poundmaker's reserve on Monday night last. The rebels struck out in the direction of Edmonton, and so far the object of their movements has not been discovered. A party of mounted police has gone after them.

LETHBRIDGE, Sept. 11.—There are a number of Indians moving from the Blood reserve, and it is understood that they are implicated in troubles across the line.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 15.—Sheriff Chaplin will return to Regina in a few days. He has been successful in completing the organization of a ranching company which will operate in Alberta and on the frontiers.

Ered White expects the construction of the Police barracks at Lethbridge will be commenced this fall. Fourteen acres have been reserved for grounds.

Sir Charles Tupper is still confined to his apartments at Ottawa. Callers are not admitted.

The Methodist General Conference has denounced the Ottawa Government's enactment of a prohibitory liquor law next session of Parliament. It has also decided to retain two General Superintendents and appoint a Missionary Superintendent in the North-West. In this connection the name of Rev. John McDougall, of Moncton, is mentioned.

General Middleton was present yesterday at the unveiling of the monument to private Watson of the 90th and associates, in St. Catharines.

Official information from Department of Justice stated that the act relating to the Administration of Justice in the North West is likely to be proclaimed after the session of the North-West Council. The number of applicants for positions is very large.

The Powers have agreed that peace shall be in military occupation, but probably the whole affair will quiet down.

The Queen has decided to refer arrangements of programme for national celebration of jubilee to a full meeting of the Privy Council, presided over by the Prince of Wales.

The Montreals were defeated by the Gentlemen from England in the cricket match.

The engrossing topic of conversation at Vienna is the wording of the toast to the Czar, proposed by Emperor Francis Joseph at the army banquet at camp at London. The Emperor simply said, "I drink to the health of his majesty the Czar." In former years he always used those words, "I drink to the health of my friend and august ally the Czar." The difference in phraseology is taken to indicate that an alliance is ended. In diplomatic circles it is admitted that the tension between Austria and Russia has increased.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 16.—Despatches from Edmonton states that nothing is known of the movement of Indians in that direction as reported from Battleford.

The new grain rates have gone into effect on the C. P. reduction of the present tariff.

The North West Council meets on the 18th October.

Yesterday cable advices were received from Hugh Sutherland, President of the Hudson's Bay Railway, that financial arrangements had been completed for immediate commencement of the construction of the Hudson's Bay Railway, that shipment of rails for the work was in progress, and that he will sail for Canada on Sunday, accompanied by the chief engineer of the road, Mr. Sheffield.

This is said to mean—by those in a position to know—that active construction will be begun at once and will be carried on with all possible vigor to the closed season. This news has been received with great satisfaction at Winnipeg.

HOW TO BUILD UP YOUR TOWN.

Don't fret.
Talk about it.
Write about it.
Beautify the streets.
Patronize the merchants.
Be friendly to everybody.
Advertise in the newspapers.
Erect good men for all the offices.
Don't grumble about hard times.
Keep your sidewalks in good repair.
Avoid gossip about your neighbors.
Do your trading with your home merchants.
Sell all you can and buy all you can at home.
If you are rich, invest something; employ somebody, be a "rascal."
If you don't think of any good word don't say anything about it.
Remember that every dollar invested in permanent improvement is so much on interest.
Be courteous to strangers that cross among you, so that they may go away with good impressions.
Always cheer on the men who go in for improvements, your portion of the cost will be nothing only what is just.
Don't kick at any proposed improvement because it is not at your own door, or for fear that your taxes will be raised fifty cents.
Don't use rubber stamps on your letter heads, that is a dead give away on your business, on the town and newspaper published in it. Get your letter heads, envelopes, business cards, etc., printed at the printing office.
Never condemn the local paper until it has fairly misled you. If it has dealt with you unjustly write to it or go into the office and tell the editor about your case; if he is wrong he will lose no time in telling the public about it.
Remember that no man does as much for your town as the local newspaper. Every paper sent out is an advertisement of the business, the resources and enterprises of the place; and people get a better idea of it from the local paper than from any other source.
